LAUNCH OF THE TIOGA. - The Southern Mail Steamship Company's new Iron steamship, tue Tioga, was launched on Saturday, from the yard of Reanie, Son & Co. (not Reaney, Son & Archibald, or Archbold), Chester, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the presence of a delighted multitude. The officers of the Company, with specially invited guests, left the city at 7-45 A. M., in the tug Douglass, Captain Wilkins. The day was very unpropitious, the steamer being enclosed in a dense bank of fog, that rose before her like a wall. Passing the historic ground of the Horse shoe, via the New Jersey channel, we became sware of the contiguity of Chester. Her model is very beautiful, rather, however, com-pressed in her bows, and in her after develop-

At the time indicated she glided from her ways as gently as a swan leaves shore, and was lost at once in the for which filled the river. All the while March was baptizing river. All the while March was baptizing the new craft with a continuous shower of rain, as if to give a double welcome to her in her new element. The tug at once shot out after the disappearing craft, and in the course of half an hour she was moored under the shears, to receive her masts, engine, etc., all of which are ready to be put in place. Subsequently a splendid collation was served up in the upper offices of Reanie, Son & Co., when the usual feast of — and flow of — followed, with speeches and toasts and songs, after which the party returned to the city, wishing the Tioga an uninterrupted success. an uninterrupted success.

A FALSE ALARM, AND THE INDIRECT RESULTS .-Yesterday afternoon there was a false alarm of fire occasioned by the dense smoke made by lighting a fire under the bollers of an establishinguing a fre under the boilers of an establishment at Twenty-third and Wood streets. There were quite a number of companies that were on the ground promptly, to aid in the extinguishment of the supposed fire. There was no disturbance of any kind resulted until three companies—the Washington Hook and Laider, the Marion and Columbia Hose Companies met at the corner of Ninth and Race streets.

As the three companies, who were all nearly abreast of each other, attempted to turn the corner, one of the members of the Washington, it is alleged, picked up a brick and threw it at one of the other companies. It missed its object and hit a man who was in the third company. The consequence was that all three companies got into a skirmish and for a few minutes the fighting was quite lively, many of the contest-ants measuring their length on the street. Soon after this occurrence, it is alleged that the Weccacoe and Shiffler Companies had a fight at Eighth and Walnut streets, the result of which was a few knock-downs and consequent contrisions on the force of the belligarer is.

... PAIR OF BELLIOERENTS .- Several evenings ago a number of young men and women were blocking up the pavement in front of a place near Ridge avenue and Coates street. They were requested to move on, and some hard words ensued, and a couple of the party, named H. Weir and W. McKinley, swore they would give the officers a trashing. They wated at a tavern at Ridge avenue and Coates street last Saturday night until after midnight, for Officer Shilling, and when he was walking along they Shilling, and when he was walking along they accosted him in a very abusive manner. The officer then arrested Weir, and McKinley underlaking to interfere with him, Officer Widner arrested McKinley also. They both had a hear-ing before Alderman Hutchinson, and Weir was held in $600 ball to answer for disorderly conduct and assaulting an officer, and McKin-ley was held in $400 bail to keep the peace,

A COUPLE OF SWINDLERS .- Complaint was made to the Chief of Police concerning a couple of men who were endeavoring to swindle some of our citizens by obtaining money under pre-tense of selling. He called at one of our hotels and sold one of the proprietors ten bushels of potatoes. He then went to the residence of the purchaser, in Broad street, below Oxford, and left the potatoes. Going back to the hotel again he said he had left thirteen bushels, but was ne said he had left thirteen bushess, but was only paid for the ten that were ordered. He then returned to the house and took nearly all the potatoes away, since which time he has not been heard of. One of the men was about six feet in height, and was dressed in a military

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD DIRECTORS-ANNUAL ELECTION OF DIRECTORS,—The annual election for Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad is being held to-day at the office of the Company, No. 238 S. Third street. The polls were opened at 10 o'clock A. M., and will not close until 6 this afternoon. There is but one ticket in the field, and consequently it will be successful. The names of the following gentlemen are upon it;-Haime, Wistar Morris, Alexander Nimick (Pittsburg), Samuel T. Bodine, Joseph B. Myers, Edward C. Knight, Washington Butcher, John

ASSAULT AND BATTERY WITH A CLUB .- Yes-ASSAULT AND DATEST WITH A CLUB.—165-terday morning, John Gallagher, Peter Kelley, and another man, went into the enclosed grounds of the Almshouse without permission. They were just entering the Almshouse when Officer Shaw met them and ordered them off the grounds. They refused to go, and, after uttering some insulting words, one of them attacked the officer and knocked him down with a club. The officer was so severely injured as to be unable to appear against his assaliants. Gallagher and Kelley had a preliminary examination before Alderman Allen, who committed them for a further hearing, ion the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

SAILING OF THE PIONEER .- The Southern mai Steamship Company's ship Pioneer sailed yes-terday morning at 8 o'clock. She was to have terday morning at 8 o'clock. She was to have left on Saturday, but the quantity of freight was so great that she only finished taking in her cargo at a late hour in the night. She is temporarily detached from the Wilmington (North Carolina) line and placed on the Savannah route. She left freight enough behind for an additional steamer, which will wait for the new steamer Wyoming, now nearly ready for sea, or in her default, in time, the return of the Tonawanda. Captain Jeremiah Bennett commands the Pioneer.

SELLING SHORT MEASURE.-Last Saturday James Hengey, George Thompson, and John Rick, constituting a firm that retails oysters in Rick, constituting a firm that retails oysters in a huckster wagon doing an itinerant business, not being able to make the legitimate profit large enough, undertook to swindle the people by giving a smaller number of oysters than they were paid for. They sold to a Mrs. Craig, at Haverford road, near Fortieth street, what purported to be 100 oysters, but in counting them Mrs. Craig found them to be only 55. She had them arrested, and after a hearing before Alderman Johnson, they were held to answer the charge of swindling.

HISTORY OF THE PENNSYLVANIA MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS.—Samuel P. Bates, Esq., the State historian, is preparing an authentic history of the volunteer and militia organizations of the State. For this purpose he is making collections of newspapers, pamphiets, histories, and diaries, and all matter published during the war that in any way would throw light upon the subject in question. He solicits aid from the officers and privates in regard to correct statements of their services.

A BELLIGEREST YOUNGSTER .- Last evening as a couple of fire companies were returning from a false alarm of fire, a slight disturbance occurred at Second and Senate streets. New-berg Gill, alias Sigel, a lad aged fourteen years, struck a member of one of the companies over the head with a billy, and acted otherwise in a disorderly manner. He was arrested and had a hearing before Alderman Tittermary, by whom he was committed to answer the charge of in-

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN .- This morning Mr. Robert Harmar died after a short illness, aged 63 years. Mr. Harmar commenced business in Third street, below Arch, where he started a small hotel about thirty-five years ago. He then removed into Chesnut street, and for the past sixteen or seventeen years he kept the place at the southeast corner of Broad and place at the southeast corner of Broad and Chesput streets, known as "Harmar's Cornu-

STEALING SILVER-WARE AT A FIRE.—At a fire that took place at the residence of Mr. Samuel S. Wismer, No. 1147 Camac street, last Saturday morning, the following articles were stolen:

Half dozen silver teaspoons, half dozen silver dinner forks, half dozen plated tablespoons, and two plated butter knives.

SNEAK THIEVES ABOUT .- About 8 or 9 o'clock last evening a speak thief entered the premises occupied by Mr. Robert Haye, at No. 1419, North Thirteenth street, and stole a valuable black overcoat. People should be careful how they loave their front doors open.

A POLITICAL COMMOTION IN THE CITY—THE "TENURS OF OFFICE" BILL PLAYS HAVOUWITH THE FEDERAL OFFICE-HOLDERS—THE CHANGES WHICH IT BRINGS ABOUT.—The first fruits of the "Tenure of Office" bill, as it is called, which passed both Houses of Congress over the veto on Saturday, were produced at 12 o'clock to-day. The principal berths in the Custom House, as is well known, have for some months past been tenanted by gentlemen who did not enjoy the good will of the Senate to such an extent as to induce the members of the latter to grant them permission to remain therein. They therefore all fall under the operation of the third section the "Tenure of Office" bill, which reads as

The President shall have power to fill all vacancies which may happen during the recess of the Senate, by reason of death or resignation, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next season thereafter, and it no appointment by and with the advice and comsent of the Senate, abail be made to such affice, so vacant or temporarily filled as aforesaid, during such next session of the Senate, such office shall remain in abevance without any salary, fees, or emoluments attached until the same shall be filled by appointment thereto, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and during such time all the powers and duties belonging to such office shall be exercised by such other officer as may lawfully exercise such duties and powers in case of a vacancy in such office, "Section 4. That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to extend of any office the duration of which is limited by law.

This morning an unusual commotion was observed in the corridors of the Custom House. Everybody confessed that he knew the bill went into effect at noon, but at the same time, with the most charming simplicity, everybody elaimed his utter ignorance of what this effect would be. It was even rumored in quarters entitled. "The President shall have power to fill all vacan-would be. It was even rumored in quarters enti-tled to credit that the Secretary of the Trea-sury had decided that, in accordance with the terms of the bill as given above, the offices would be entirely vacated at 12 o'clock, and would necessarily have to be closed to all at and after that hour. The wording of the third section, however, clearly provides that the powers and duties of the various officers made treath by the operation of the bill "small beautiful to the bill as the bill vacant by the operation of the bill "shall be exercised by such other officer as may lawfully exercise such duties and powers in case of a exercise such duties and powers in case of a vacancy in such office."

The commission of Collector being still held by Ex-Governor William F. Johnston, he was, therefore, the retiring officer at the head of the establishment. S. Snyder Leidy, Deputy Col-lector, claimed the right of exercising the Col-lector, distributed by the control of the contr lector, claimed the right of exercising the Collector's functions ad interim, according to the terms of the bill. E. Reed Meyer, Esq., however, disputed his claim, having just been appointed Deputy Collector in place of Mr. Leidy, but not having as yet secured the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. For this reason Mr. Leidy holds to his position and the privileges which pertain to it.

The Naval Officer, Joseph R. Flanagan, was another of the retiring dignitaries. The Deputy Naval tofficer, John K. Zeilin, drops into his chair by virtue of the bill. And in the same involuntary fishion Jo Severns, Surveyor of the Port, gives way to Thomas C. MacDowell, the Deputy Surveyor, Sloanaker resigned his charge of the office, addressing a number of gentlemen there assembled as follows:—

"The hoar havingarrived bywhich mycommission as Collector of Internal Revenue of the Pirst District of Pennsylvania expires, it becomes my duty to cense my functions in that capacity. In this connection I beg leave to make known my great indebtedness to the gentlemen connected with this office, the deputies and attaches, for their kindness and official aid, and that whatever the success be attributed me during this administration of this office, it is in part due to one and allot those who were with me, and to them I return my sincere and heartfelt thanks. And in whatever phase of life I shall be placed to move. I shall be pleased to extend to them ever that courtesy and grateful thanks which their services in the past justiy entitie them to. To my Chief Deputy, Majors Magilton, I owe much, who has ever helped me to preserve the integrity of the revenue and my personal character, and I here make known to my friends that my accounts during the administration of this office will be found correct. Had I been left my choice of deputy, I should have appointed the Major my successor. But such is the political situation of the times that I did not attempt any appointment. I, therefore, ranked all the commissions of my deputies to expire offer the office hours on the 2d of March, and to surrender to the appointed Chief Deputy, Mr. George Kelley, between whom and myself there has ever been a lasting friend-ship, the duties of this office, returning my sincere thanks to all engaged with me. I accepted this office in lieu of persenal services rendered at the Baltimore Convention, which nominated Abraham Lincolin as the Republican candidate, and to whom I was deeply indebted for the kindness shown me. I again return to the public my sincere thanks."

Mr. George Kelley, on taking charge of the

to the public my sincere thanks."

Mr. George Kelley, on taking charge of the office, replied to Mr. Sloanaker's remarks, saying:—"It does not matter whether I differ ditically or not with my subordinates; I will observe the same spirit which should charac-terize all who are thus made co-laborers." Mr. J. W. Frazier, the Assessor of Internal Revenue of the First District, was confirmed by the Senate a day or two ago; butthat body this morning reconsidered its action in this case, morning reconsidered its action in this case, and rejected the nomination. Mr. Frazier therefore goes out, and is succeeded by his deputy, Mr. Charles L. Wolff.

In the Post Office there appears to be little or In the Post Office there appears to be interest on o excitement. At noon the commission of Mr. Hall expired, and the principal duties of the Office, for the time being, fell upon the shoulders of the Chief Clerk, Mr. Bingham, Frank McLaughlin, Esq., who has been nominated to the position of Postmaster, confidently expected to pass the Senatorial gauntlet this morning, in which case he would at once assume control of the establishment.

In case of his confirmation, it is expected that there will be no material change in the office, except as regards the position of Chief Clerk, the present incumbent of which was a candidate against Mr. McLoughlin, and will therefore be suffered to retire in the Tenure bill

FUNERAL OF SIGNOR PERELLI-SOLEMN AND IMPOSING CREEMONIES.—The funeral of the late lamented Signor Perelli took place this morning from his late residence in Chesnut street, below Thirteenth, which was visited by countless numbers of his former pupils, and endeared friends, who so greatly mourn his endeared friends, who so greatly mourn his loss. At 9 o'clock the funeral cortege was formed, headed by the members of the French Benevolent Society, of which he was a member, and the members of the Chigary Institute, of which he was musical preceptor. The body was taken to St. John's Catholic Church, Thirteentis street, above Chesnut, which was filled by an immense concourse of persons, anxious to witness the last funeral rites of their departed ritend, and also to listen to the grand and friend, and also to listen to the grand and solemn music which might naturally be expected upon such an occasion.

The Germania Orchestra, under the competent direction of Charles M. Schmitz, kindly volunteered their services for the occasion, and a specially invited choir was detailed to sing the service. This foresight was most judicious and proper, and the many friends of Signor Perelli are much gratified that, in consequence, the music at his interment was what it should be. The choir was composed of the first vocalists of Philadelphia, professors of music, choir leaders, etc., etc., and, as might be expected, the music of the Mass was most forcibly and effectively given. Mr. Henry G. Thunder directed the given. Mr. Henry G. Thunder directed the choir and orchestra throughout the Mass, and also presided at the organ during the solos sung before and after the offering of the Holy Sacrifice.

As the body was borne into the church, the orchestra performed the grand Funeral March by Beethoven: after which Professor Dayton sung the sole baseo.

"O Jesu Deus Facis," by Novello, which he sung in ex-"O Jean Dens Pucis," by Novello, which he sung in excellent style, with organ accompaniment. Father Filzmaurice, of St. John's, then commenced the celebration of mass, when the "Eyric Eleison." from Mozart's 1Twelfth Mass was sung. At the offertory the quartet Yuha Mirum, Spargens Sonum," was sung by Miss Blackburn. Miss Gormley, Signor Rondinella, and Professor Tayler, followed by the plaintive chorns, "Lachrymosa dies illa, qua resurget ex fautta," which was given with much emphasis and well defined expression. Both it and the quartett are from the was given with much emphasis and well defined of pression. Both it and the quartett are from the great Requiem by Mozart, and are splendid compo-bression. Both it and the quartett are from the great Requiem by Mozart, and are splendid compositions.

The "Benedictus." another beautiful quartet from the same work, was sung by Miss Blackburne, Mrs. Schimpf, Mr. Burk, and Professor Louis.

The "Agans Del" and "Nona Nobla Pacem, from Mozart's Twelfith Mass, concluded the general pieces, when selections were sung by Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Piessants, and others, after which the solemn absolution of the body was performed by Rev. John P. Dunn, who subsequently delivered an impressive fineral oration from the following text:—"Enter not into judgment with thy servant, O God, for in thy sight no man shall be justified." The speaker said: "On carth we are placed in a great sphere, where love abounds, mid great lafluences, and where the only hope is in God. Sin is constantly pushing us down to everlasting death, to which man will surely go, unless he selves on the hope of eternal life-God. The whole earth speaks to us of the goodness of God, and man should take hold on God, to obey His will, to confess His name, and in death to be glorified by God. Such was the one who now lies before us.

The love of God soethes the afflictions, draws the soul upwards, and brings man nearer to that hely being, God himself. We are grailfied to know that he who now lies before us, that he helped to extend God's word, a lay missionary, to bring others to that faith whereby man is saved. In God he put his trust, and for God did he laber. (The Father related some circumstances conserning the deceased while living, showing his love for Christ, his Christkan life, and his peaceful and holy death.) Who can tell the hope, the glory of this squl, as is left these mortal remains to take up its abode above? When in sickness, his sim was to be with God, and it was his often exclamation—"Would to God I was nearer Thee!"

Father Dunn gave a vivid description of his early Christian life, and his glorbds death in that Saviour Christian life, and his glorbdy death in that Saviour who came to die that we might live and turning from this, he exherted his heavers to live in the same Christian life, and to pray for the repose of his soul, because it is a holy act to pray to God, through His Sou, Jesus Christ, because the influence will be reciprocal, and your own souls will be blessed. The reverend gentleman spoke at length, in his sermon, of the many noble qualities of the deceased; and of the hope of his happy and praceful life.

He orged all to pray fervently for the repose of his oul, as "it is a holy and wholesome thought that we pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from heir sins."
The coffin (which was literally covered with natural flowers) was then borne out of the church, the probestra performed a tarewell dirge, and all that was mortal of Natale Perelli, was convered to the tomb.

MRETING OF THE BOARD OF SURVEY,—Chief Engineer and Surveyor Kness in the Chair. A petition for a sewer on Powelton avenue, between the Peansylvania Raifoad and Thirty-fifth street, was referred to a committee consisting of Messar, emediev, Miller, and Roberts. Upon the motion of Mr. Shedaker, plan No. 215, which had been advertised for hearing this day, was called up. Mr. Schaffer objected to the passage of Hinkle and Reservoir streets, from Creshelm avenue to Gowen avenue, he being the owner of the soil. He also objected to the location of Gowan street, between Mower street and Germantown avenue. Upon further motion, the consideration of the plan was postponed until the next stated meeting.

Petition for a sewer on Thirteenth street, from Wood to Callowhill streets, was read and referred to a Cemmitee, who reported a resolution authorising the construction of a 2 feet 6 inch sewer. The resolution was agreed to. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SURVEY .- Chief

Mr. Roberts offered the following resolution:—
Resolved, That the Board of Surveys recommend to City Councils the repeal of the ordinance charging annual reintage for the use at the sewers of the city.

There was considerable discussion upon the resolution. It was discovered that about eight-tenths of the sewers were built at private expense, and these people think it a hardship that they should built sewers, hand them over to the city, and be charged for the use of them. The Board postponed it with the HEARING AT CENTRAL STATION .- Edward Davis and Charles Neep were before Alderman Reitler this alternoon on a charge of being pro-fessional thieves. Officers Beale and Harbison saw them at the Catholic Church, Fifth street and Girard avenue, scring in a suspicion man-ner yesterday afternoon. Neep had on his per-son two or three pieces of candles. Detective Levy testified to the fact that Davis is a profes-sional thief and pickpocket, whose real name is Ezekiel Corson, and who goes under the name of "Peanuts." Neep's proper name is Richard Walker, and he has been in the habit of associating with professional thieves. Corson alias Davis was committed for ninety days under the act for imprisoning professional thieves, Walker alias Neep was held in $1500 bail for his good behavior. GIVING WAY TO TEMPTATION. - Four men, representing themselves to be a committee appointed to collect money for the relief of a sick member of the Franklin Engine Company, last Saurday got into a slight difficulty, owing to the covetousness of one of their number. On calling at the drug store at the cornersof Third and Overn streets, one of them took a new hat and Queen streets, one of them took a new hat belonging to the proprietor, and walked off with it. Two of them, John Hastings and James McMenamin, were arrested on the charge, and after a hearing before Alderman Tittermary, were committed to answer the charge of larceny.

PROFESSIONAL THIEVES AT CHURCH. - Last evening a couple of professional thieves, named Edward Neep and Charles Davis, went to the Roman Catholic Church at Fifth and Girard avenue for the supposed purpose of deriving a little revenue from the members, it is alleged. They were detected, however, and were put out of the church. At the door they were received by a couple of policemen, who took them before Alderman Shoemaker. That gentleman committed them for a hearing at the Central

SALE OF RARE WORKS OF ART will be A SALE OF MARE WORES OF ART will be held on the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, March 5 and 6, at half-past 7 o'clock, by Mr. B. Scott, Jr., of No. 1020 Chesnut street, The collection of paintings which will be disposed of on these occasions comprises a collec-tion of one hundred and fifty-four pieces, which have been painted expressly to the order of J. P. Beaumont, Esq., of New York, by the most skilful and popular artists of Europe and Ame-rica. Mr. Beaumont has devoted several years to rendering this collection one which has been rarely surpassed in an artistic way. Among the paintings are many of rare merit, and there is one which will be especially sought for. This, the last on the list, is Gilbert Stuart's cele-brated portrait of Mrs. Robert Morris, of Revo-lutionary repute, being the only representation of this lady which Stuart produced from life. It is remarkable for pure and delicate coloring.

THE FORTIETH CONGRESS FIRST SESSION.

MEETING THIS P. M.

Calling of the Roll and Organization

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] The Fortieth Congress-Opening Scenes -Calling the Roll, Etc.

E Washinoton, March 4, 1232, Mr. McPherson has just called the new House of Representatives to order, and said:—"Gentlemen:—I will now proceed with my first duty; it is to call the roll of members."

The members are answering to their names and taking their seats. There is much excitement, and the galleries are crowded, but the most perfect order is preserved.

Reconsidered and Withdrawn. The confirmation of John F. Frazer, Assessor of the First District of Pennayivania, was reconsidered by the Senate this morning, and withdrawn. He will not be confirmed. Several other confirmations were re-Election of Speaker.

The Honse is now proceeding to the election of a Speaker, and Mr. Brooks, of New York, is arguing against the legality of such an organization of Congress with sixteen States unrepresented. Hon. John Morrissey.

There is a great buzz of luquiry about the House galleries as to which is John Morrissey. He is in his seat, sweating profusely, and mopping his face with a large pocket handkerchief. Bills Signed.

Pres dent Johnson has just approved the following The Wool and Woollen Goods Tax bill.

The Bill providing for additional Commissioners to the Paris Exposition.

Army Appropriation bill.

The President's Private Secretary says he has signed all bills presented to him up to 12 o'clock. He has returned none to the House to-day.

Bills Killed by the Pecket Veto. The President has killed the Bankrupt blil, the Army Appropriation bill, and the Woollen Tariff bill, by a pocket veto. His objection to the Army Appropriation bill is the second section, which takes away all his powers in connection with the army.

No Message. The President will not send a Message to Congress at this short session, thinking there is no necessity for one until the time for the regular annual session.

House of Representatives. Continued from the Second Edition.

The business on the Speaker's table was resumed as The business of the Speaker's table was resulted as follows:—
The Senate bill for the relief of Samuel H. Beatty, of Okto, for services as Chaplain of the United States Hospital at Cleveland. Passed.
The Senate bill relative to Courts Martial in the army. Indefinitely postponed.
The Senate bill to provide for the payment of D. B. Allen & Co. for services in carrying the mail. Referred to the Post Office Committee.
The Senate bill to amend the act of July 27, 1806, for the removal of causes in certain cases from State Courts. Passed.

the removal of causes in certain cases from State Courts. Passed.

The Senate bill to refer the claim of the trustees of A. G. Sloo to the Court of Claims. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

Mr. Dawson, from the Conference Committee on the bill to facilitate the auditing of accounts of disbursing officers, made a report, which was agreed to.

The business on the Speaker's table was continued as follows:—

The Senate bill to amend certain acts in relation to the Navy.

Mr. Rice (Mass.), chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, offered several amendments, one of which provides that officers on the retired list shall be entitled to promotion, but not to the pay incident to the increased rank, unless when they are placed on active duty. Adopted.

Mr. Spalding (Ohio), moved to strike out that provision of the bill which raised the commandant of the Marine Corps to the rank of Brigadier-General. Rejected—yeas 55; nays 65.

The vote on the passage of the bill was taken by yeas and nays, and passed—yeas 91; nays 65.

The Speaker, by leave of the House, presented out of its regular order, the Senate joint resolution presenting the thanks of Congress to Cyrus W. Field, which was thereupon read three times and passed unanimously.

At this time, a quarter of 11 o'clock, the accommodations for spectators in the house prove entirely insufficient for the immense crowds attendant on the dissolution of the Thirty-ninth and the organization of the Fertleth Congress. Every seat in the galleries is occupied, except the two front rows of the Diplomatic gallery, which are reserved for those specially entitled to them. The doorways are completely blocked up, and the wide corridors and stair cases are impassable with the crowds striving to get a view of the hall.

The lamilies of the members were admitted to the cloak rooms, but the ladies cannot be retained in there, or else they are in such numbers that the capacity of these rooms is too small, for they are now overflowing into the Hall, and chairs and lounges are being prepared for them outside of the range of the members seats.

The business on the Speaker's table is cleared off by the taking up and passing the Senate bill authomited.

The business on the Speaker's table is cleared off by the taking up and passing the Senate bill authorizing Assistant Secretary Fox and other officers of the Miantonomah and Augusta to accept the presents tendered them by the Emperor of Russia, and the Senate joint resolution thanking the Chambers of Senators and Deputies of Brazil for their resolutions of sorrow and sympathy for the death of President Luceon.

of sorrow and sympathy for the death of President Lincoln.

On motion of Mr. Schenck, the bill relating to brevets in the army of the United States, was read three times and passed.

Mr. Banks moved to suspend the rules, and discharge the Committee of the Whole from the further consideration of the Senate bill making additional appropriations for the representation of American industry at the Paris Exposition. Agreed to yeas 106, nays 51, over two-thirds.

Mr. Banks moved amendments that the Commissioners shall serve without compensation, and reducing the amount of appropriations from $103,000 to $50,000. The amendments were agreed to, and the bill passed on a vote by yeas and nays.

The Speaker, in response to an inquiry as to whether the important bills had all been signed by the President, mentioned the titles of some not yellagined, and also that he had just been informed that the bill increasing the tariff on wools and (weoliers, Mr. Binghers).

dent, mentioned the littles of some not yeftigned, and also that he had just been informed that the billi increasing the tariff on wools and tweoliens, Mr. Bingham's bill, had been signed by the President.

The friends of the measure greeted the announcement with clapping of hands.

Mr. Kasson, from the Conference Committee on the bill to provide for an annual inspection of lading affairs, reported that the Committee had been unable to agree. He added that to some Indians the Government had been foolishly following that precedent and treating them as lifthey were a foreign nation, instead of treating them, as all other Government. The report was agreed to and the Committee discharged.

Mr. Farnsworth, from the Select Committee on the murder of Union soldiers in South Carolina, made a special report, whish was laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Francis Thomas (Md.), from the Judiciary Committee, made a report of testimony taken in the investigation into the Freedmen's affairs in Maryland, which was placed in the custody of the Clerk of the House to be submitted to the Fortieth Congress.

On motion of Mr. Maynard, authority was given to the Chairmen of all the Committees to pursue the same course.

Mr. Marsten (N. Y.) offered a resolution to add to the Chairmen of all the Committees to pursue the name course.

Mr. Marsten (N. Y.) offered a resolution to add to the Joint Committee of both Houses a Joint Committee on Ordinance. Adopted.

Mr. Hart, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, presented the evidence taken in regard to the Indian Superintendency in Colorado. Laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

The bill before the House being one to organize an ice company at the Great Falls, which, according to Mr. Bialise, was rather a cool proposition at this time of day.

On motion of Mr. Dawes, a committee was appointed to wait on the President and inform him that the Thirty-ninth Congress was ready to adjourn. The yeas and nays having been called on some unimportant matter, the bour of noon arrived, and the Speaker rising to deliver his valedictory.

Valedictory of the Speaker of the House.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:—To be called to this respensible position by the voluntary choice of my tellow-members more than fills the measure of an honorable ambition. To be cordially supported by those of all political creeds, amid the exciting scenes so frequent in a body of American legislators, is an evidence of confidence and regard I legislators, is an evidence of confidence and regard I shall prize to the intent hour of my life. But to be shall prize to the intent hour of my life. But to eshall prize to the intent hour of my life. But to eshall prize to the intent hour of my life. But to desinderate by you all in the resolution you have spread on your lournal, and which you adopted with such significance and earnestness, beggars me in words of thanks. To be able to relire from this Chair, when laying down its emblem of authority, with none to reproach me on the one hand for infidelity to principles I cherish, and none on the other to impugate of deary the rigid impartiality with which I have deary the rigid impartiality with which I have deary the rigid impartiality with which I have attriven to administer your roles, has been my sarness and daily endeavor in the years that now are garnered with the past.

The greatest of my official predecessors, whose memory is still enshrined in so many hearts, and who eminently honored, the Chair, declared, as the casen-present in the pasting officer, promptide and impartiality in deciding the complex questions of order, often sprung instantaneously upon him: firmness and often sprung instantaneously upon him: firmness and thoroughases in his deciding; patience and good temper towards every member; and above all, to remain Valedictory of the Speaker of the House.

cool and unshaken amid the storm of debate, and during the assembly is exempt, carefully guarding the rules of the House from being sacrificed ing the rules of the House from being sacrificed to temporary passions, prejudices, or interests. Never hoping to reach this high standard, it has been ever best or my mind as the sculptor studies the mods to the great master of his art, hoping to leave health thin a copy not entirely unworthy of the origin. Though death has not spared our circle, and New to ork, Kentucky, and Pennsylvania have been called the mount the loss of faithful Regerentatives, we come to this closing hour with our ranks thinned less than usual by prevailing sickness or wasting disease. We as pacate after months of the conflicts and excitements of an evenful era with a genial good-will as grants ng as it is creditable. We can never all nocet agas he but as the defects are thrown just sunnoticed shade, may memory, as in after years we re view our associations here, bring all the pleasures of the someticed shade, may memory, as in after years we re view our associations here, bring all the pleasures of the someticed shade. But as these parting words are said, shottler Congress with the occasions that sovoked them. But as these parting words are said, chottler Congress will to our seats, and with a heart fall of gralifude for your unvarying kindness, I declare the House of the Thirty-ninth Congress of the United States adjourned without a day.

The remarks of the Speaker were delivered what great effect, and were listened to with interes attestion. When he closed, declaring the Thirty-ninth Congress adjourned without a day, and vacated the chair, he was enhantstically applauded.

House of Representatives. Washington, March t.—After the confusion had subsided, Mr. Mcl'herson, the Clerk of the House of the Thirty-night Congress, called the House to order and proceeded to call the roll of members of the Formatic Congress of t tieth Congress.

Mr. Wilson (Iowa) having moved to proceed to the election of a Speaker, Mr. Brooks rose, and, after a speech in which he denounced the organization of the House in the absence of seventeen States a revolutionary proceeding, presented a written protest against it on the part of the minority.

The protest was not received, and the House proceeded to the election of a Speaker.
